Lim-Loges & Masters Appoints Dr Fenny Ang as Senior Partner

Lim-Loges & Masters, a premier firm in the field of human resources consulting and executive search, has recently appointed Dr Fenny Ang as its new Senior Partner, Organisational Design, as of immediate effect.

Ang brings extensive management consultancy and HR practitioner expertise to the role, empowering Lim-Loges & Masters (LLM) to further facilitate company transformation in today's unprecedented technological era. With businesses racing to master the inevitable AI and human interface, Ang is adept at harnessing the Human Capital of an organisation to enhance its competitive edge.

Lelia Lim-Loges, Lim-Loges & Masters said "Fenny Ang is a great asset to the Lim-Loges & Masters' team. Her intimate knowledge of organisation design and change management is invaluable as we strive to help more businesses unlock their human talent from within. Fenny's talents strengthen our portfolio of transformation services, designed to manage the impact of technology innovations which are evolving at breakneck speed."

Commenting on her appointment, Ang said, "I am particularly excited to be part of Lim-Loges & Masters. The company is not just at the frontier of HR as a differentiating capability to win the war on talent, but also HR as the logical "disruptor" in this whole intersection of AI and human capital play. Together we can help organisations unlock their people's greatest potential against the backdrop of an increasingly VUCA world, thus bringing in a meaningful and lasting legacy to their organisations."

Ang has over 20 years' management consultant and HR practitioner experience in both the corporate and NGO sectors across Asia Pacific (Malaysia, Singapore, Indonesia, China). She has provided executive coaching, change management consulting, cross-cultural coaching and leadership development training for multi-national companies such as iRobot, Cargill, AirBnB, Swire Beverage, SCMC-Coca Cola and Twinings Tea.

As a Professional Certified Coach (PCC™), Ang has extensive experience in team coaching, career transition and outplacement coaching. She works with senior executives to develop
