The Global Talent Mobility Revolution

The global talent mobility revolution is upon us.

Technology is changing the way we work, and organisations are increasingly transforming their global mobility programs through digital technologies.

Automating what was previously managed by their people and reducing delays in processes, they can move talent around the world more quickly and efficiently than ever before. But what does this mean for the ever changing business landscape in Hong Kong?

Join our panel discussion on Thursday 27 October at 12.30pm SGT/HKT as we discuss how technology is changing global talent mobility. What mobility looks like across Asia and the repercussions of mobility and losing talent? Our panellists will debate the solutions around it and how mobility teams can ensure their organisation does not lose sight of global talent's value to the company's recovery efforts.

About the speakers

Kate is part of KPMG's People & Change Advisory team in Hong Kong, specialising in organisation effectiveness and transformation and focused primarily on the Financial Services sector. As our workplaces continue to rapidly change, Kate is passionate about helping organisations to transform and create forward looking people strategies towards a new future of work.

Kate joined KPMG in 2018 with an industry background and has extensive experience delivering large scale people transition programs for global and multinational organizations. Having worked throughout Asia Pacific for many years, Kate brings expertise in talent management, organisation design & workforce planning, employee engagement, learning and development, and behavioural & culture change management. She also works extensively with leadership teams facilitating coaching and development.

Lelia Lim has been leading C-suite searches across Asia Pacific since 1998 and is the Principal Founder of Lim-Loges & Masters. She spent almost 13 years with Korn/Ferry International in its Global Industrial and Consumer Practices and just recently served at Kincannon & Reed, a global recruitment firm, as its Managing Partner, Asia Pacific and Board Member (USA). Previous to executive search, Lelia held corporate and commercial roles in BP Oil and Kumpulan Emas Group. Lelia's particular strengths are in managing transformations in multinational companies through its people strategy. She holds an MBA in Finance from Hull University and an undergraduate degree in Law (LLB Hons.) from the London School of Economics & Political Science, United Kingdom. She is a post-graduate from the INSEAD Asian International Executive Programme.
